Preliminary Feasibility Study

During the quarter, Hawsons Iron Limited (Hawsons or the Company) engaged Stantec, acting as independent engineering consultants, to undertake a Preliminary Feasibility Study (PFS) and Maiden Ore Reserves on the Hawsons Iron Project (Project).

Key areas of the PFS undertaken include:

- Engagement of Stantec to complete the PFS under the management of Hawson's new Project Manager, Mick Ryan;
- Completion of all necessary metallurgical test work associated with the PFS; further test work is currently underway in line with the commencement of the Definitive Feasibility Study next year;
- Engineering around the primary crushers and Vertical Roller Mills (VRM);
- Integration of previous metallurgical data into the PFS for the purposes of producing a 68%+ Fe grade concentrate;
- Capital and operating cost estimates due to be completed in coming weeks; and
- Completion of a detailed Project risk review and integration of environmental and social aspects in line with the Company's ultimate commitment towards developing a financially optimised, socially and environmentally sustainable Project

The Company expects to be in a position to release further information in relation to project economics, in accordance with regulatory guidelines, following completion of the PFS.

Collaborative Research Project with CSIRO

During the quarter, Hawsons commenced a two-part collaborative research project with CSIRO, Australia's national science agency, with financial assistance provided through its Kick-Start Program, and has been approved for a $47,850 Kick-Start Program voucher.¹

Phase one

The focus on the first phase of works was to identify the chemical and mineralogical properties of the non-magnetic iron content contained within the tails fraction. The program was structured to assist Hawsons in determining the high-level technical feasibility of extracting hematite as a potential byproduct of the Hawsons Iron Project. The results from the test work demonstrated the following²:

- The major component in the tailings samples was dominated by hematite and quartz;
- Low levels of magnetite (1% or less) were detected in the tailings samples confirming high recovery of magnetite in earlier stages of process separation;
- Phosphorus exists predominantly as discrete phosphate minerals, potentially simplifying the removal of phosphorus as part of upgrading a hematite concentrate.

These encouraging results provide the basis for further investigations into the potential economic recovery of Hematite from the tailings stream.

Electron Probe Microanalysis (EPMA) for Con1 shows that phosphorus occurs in two forms:

1. As discrete Ca-rich phosphate grains (the correlation between P and Ca suggests this phase is most likely apatite; and
2. as a (Ce,La) Rare Earth -phosphate phase

Apatite is the more common form of phosphate in the sample and occurs as either discrete, fully liberated particles (indicated by arrows) or as smaller, poorly liberated grains in composite particles (circled).

Most hematite grains are well-liberated. Composite particles are largely composed of various aluminosilicates (various shades of olive green) and quartz (bright green).

There was no evidence for phosphorus occurring as a substitutional contaminant within hematite grains.

Phase two

Phase two of the works is under and is focused on providing further confidence in the physical and metallurgical properties of pellets that can be manufactured from Hawson's Magnetite concentrate through:

- a) A suite of balling tests to optimise the binder addition and quality assessment of the green pellets;
- b) A suite of preheating and roasting tests to optimise the firing profile of the green pellets and assessment of preheated and fired pellet strength; and
- c) confirming the firing profile at a larger scale to provide sufficient sample for physical and metallurgical characterisation of the pellets as a Blast Furnace and Direct Reduction shaft burden.

Process Test Work Programs

In addition to the PFS and CSIRO research project, Hawsons is also undertaking a range of additional test works including;

- VRM sample testing with GEBR Pfeiffer. A 600kg sample has been sent to GEBR Pfeiffer testing facilities in Germany. Results from this testing will guide the operating parameters ahead of future large scale pilot testing.

- Magnetic separation test work with Longi Magnet. A 2,800kg sample is being assessed with results to inform processing plant design, support recovery estimates in the PFS and guide further engineering optimisation in later feasibility studies.

Share Purchase Plan and Share Placement

During the quarter, the Company completed a Share Purchase Plan (SPP).³ Total applications received for the SPP were $1.21M. 	LDA Capital Hawsons Iron has entered into a Put Option Agreement with United States investment group LDA Capital Limited. The Company can draw down funds during the term of the Agreement by issuing ordinary shares of the Company (Shares) for subscription to LDA Capital. The Company may issue call notices to LDA Capital with each call notice being a put option on LDA Capital to subscribe for and pay for those Shares. A Call Notice draws upon the Companies placement capacity which there must be available capacity to initiate a Call Notice on LDA Capital. The issue price of the Shares is calculated at the completion of the 30-Day pricing period, following the Capital Call Notice as the higher of 90% of the 30-day Volume Weighted Average Price (VWAP) after the issue of the Call Notice, and the 'minimum acceptable price' (as defined in the LDA facility) notified by Hawsons to LDA Capital, in each case subject to adjustments for various factors. Based on the historical trading volumes and the HIO share price at the end of the quarter ending 30 September 2025, Hawsons has estimated the total capital limit of the facility at 30 September 2025 at $1,109,000 (refer 7.3). LDA has the right to reduce the Proposed Capital Call Shares (Subject to adjustments) by up to 50% or increase the number of Proposed Capital Call Shares by up to 100%. Except for option shares, LDA must not, on any Trading Day during the Pricing Period sell Collateral Shares representing more than 1/30th of the Shares specified in the Capital Call Notice. The Agreement includes unlisted share options under which HIO has issued 71,500,000 options to LDA Capital. The strike price of the options is $0.055. Each option has an exercise period of four years, expiring on 21 December 2025. The Company paid an Option Premium Fee to LDA Capital of A$4 million on 21 December 2022 – 50% (A$2 million) in cash and 50% in shares (9,173,897 shares) based on 90% of the average VWAP of Shares in the 90-trading day period preceding the 12-month anniversary date from signing of the Agreement. HIO paid AUD$21,258 on 16th December 2021 to cover LDA Capital legal costs which were capped at US$25,000, and AUD$14,423 on 24th August 2022 for costs related to the Call Notice.

8.8	If item 8.7 is less than 2 quarters, please provide answers to the following questions:
8.8.1	Does the entity expect that it will continue to have the current level of net operating cash flows for the time being and, if not, why not?
	Answer: The Company incurred several annual charges during the September 2025 quarter, including audit fees, tax fees and ASX annual listing fees. The Company expects a reduction in administration and corporate cash expenditure for the remainder of the 2026 financial year. Expenditure on the Hawsons Iron project is expected to be similar for the December 2026 quarter as the Company completes works on the Preliminary Feasibility Study and undertakes additional test work programs.
8.8.2	Has the entity taken any steps, or does it propose to take any steps, to raise further cash to fund its operations and, if so, what are those steps and how likely does it believe that they will be successful?
	Answer: During October 2025, the Company received $488k from its FY2025 Research and Development tax incentive. The Company is also due to receive a refund of $188k from the refund of drilling security bonds from NSW Government in the coming weeks. The Company also has the ability to undertake additional capital raisings as and when required. Based upon the success of recent capital raisings, the Company believes there is a sound basis that any such future raisings will be successful.
8.8.3	Does the entity expect to be able to continue its operations and to meet its business objectives and, if so, on what basis?
	Answer: Yes. Based on the recent successful capital raisings, the Company expects to be able to continue its operations and meet its business objectives. To the extent future funding is delayed or not available, the Company has the ability postpone proposed project development activities.
	Note: where item 8.7 is less than 2 quarters, all of questions 8.8.1, 8.8.2 and 8.8.3 above must be answered.
