youX Data Breach

MotorCycle Holdings Limited (ASX: MTO) (the Company) has been made aware that a cyber criminal has unlawfully gained access to systems operated by youX, a third-party software platform which the Company uses to facilitate finance applications by some customers (Data Incident).

youX has advised the Company that it acted immediately to contain the issue and secure its systems, and commenced a detailed investigation with specialist external experts. Their investigation is ongoing. The Company is in close contact with youX as its investigation progresses to confirm the nature of the breach, the extent of its impact on Company customers, and what customer information may have been compromised.

Although the Company is not aware that any specific customer data has been compromised, the cyber criminal has stated it has data that was purportedly obtained from youX.

The customers potentially affected by the Data Incident are customers who financed a vehicle purchase with the assistance of the Company from July 2023 onwards.

As a precautionary measure, the Company is in the process of communicating with customers whose data was housed in the youX platform so that they are aware of the possibility that their personal information may have been accessed and can remain vigilant for suspicious emails and communications and other malicious activity. As further information becomes available, any customers who may be affected by the Data Incident will be notified individually. Customers who are not contacted have not had their details accessed in the Data Incident.

The Company has suspended use of the youX platform. The platform is not material to the Company's ongoing operations and the impact of the breach is not expected to materially affect financial results.

The Company has not identified any impact or unauthorised access to the Group's own internal systems.
