- The agreement provides strong validation of Vmoto's electric vehicle offering from the world's highest class of motorcycle road racing championship.
- The Company expects that the agreement with MGP Group and the launch of 3 models of MotoGP edition electric scooters will significantly raise Vmoto's brand and product awareness, and drive sales growth in FY2026 to FY2030.

Global electric vehicle company, Vmoto Limited (ASX: VMT) ("Vmoto", or the "Company") is pleased to advise that the Company has signed a worldwide agreement with Spanish MotoGP Sports Entertainment Group S.L. ("MGP Group") for Vmoto to produce and distribute 3 models of MotoGP edition electric scooters globally.

Vmoto will produce and supply three models of MotoGP edition electric scooters bearing the MotoGP brand and label, to be distributed via Vmoto's existing network of distributors across the world.

Vmoto will promote these three models of MotoGP edition electric scooters with significant and active sales and marketing activities and with the support from MGP Group. These sales and marketing activities include:

- Vmoto to be appointed as MotoGP Electric Scooter Supplier and the use of such title in Vmoto's global communications and promotional campaigns;
- The placing of Vmoto branded electric vehicle products at MotoGP's European events;
- The placing of Vmoto's fast charging and battery swapping station at MGP Group's authorised locations to showcase its technologies; and
- The use of MGP Group's footage and clips for promotional purposes.

Headquartered in Madrid, Spain with branches in Barcelona, Amsterdam, London and Rome, MGP Group, the commercial rights holder for the motorcycling sport of MotoGP, manages and markets MotoGP to its global fans, riders and broadcasters across the world.

MotoGP is the premier world championship of motorcycle road racing, established in 1949 as the oldest motorsports championship. As of late 2025, MotoGP has achieved record-breaking global popularity with a fanbase of 632 million, and the sport drew 3.6 million trackside attendees over the 2025 season, with over 50% of fans under 35 years old. Viewership is rising globally.

In July 2025, 84% of MotoGP Sports Entertainment Group (formerly named Dorna Sports S.L.) was acquired by Liberty Media and became part of the Formula One Group. Vmoto expects the agreement with MGP Group may also increase Vmoto's brand and products exposure to fanbase of Formula One.

The 3 models of MotoGP edition electric scooters will be available until 31 December 2030 subject to renewal. The Company expects that the agreement with MGP Group and the launch of 3 models of MotoGP edition electric scooters will significantly raise Vmoto's brand and product awareness globally, and drive further sales growth in FY2026 to FY2030. The agreement also provides strong validation of Vmoto as a leading e-mobility solutions provider by the world's highest class of motorcycle road racing championship.

Vmoto's Managing Director, Mr Charles Chen said: "This is a landmark agreement for Vmoto and we are very proud that MotoGP, the highest class of motorcycle road racing championship, associates its brand with Vmoto's two-wheel electric vehicles. The deal will allow MotoGP's significant fanbase to have the opportunity to access electric mobility supplied by Vmoto and allow the Company to significantly raise its brand and product awareness, and drive sales growth."
