Clarification regarding the WiseTech relationship with DSV

WiseTech Global Limited (ASX:WTC) (WiseTech) notes ongoing media and online speculation regarding the status of its commercial relationship with DSV and provides this announcement to clarify the position.

Key points:

- DSV remains an active WiseTech customer. CargoWise transaction volumes with DSV have grown by around 20% in the last 6 months, following the post-acquisition integration of DB Schenker, whilst user counts have grown by around 3%, demonstrating DSV's ability to extract efficiency from CargoWise.
- WiseTech and DSV are each committed under an existing contract, which includes a substantial financial commitment, until September 2028.
- The parties continue to discuss potential additional collaboration opportunities, including in relation to the period beyond September 2028.

WiseTech CEO, Zubin Appoo, said: "During my recent meeting in Denmark with DSV CEO Jens Lund and his leadership team, I reiterated that we deeply value our long-standing relationship with DSV and remain committed to supporting its business and identifying opportunities to deliver additional value over time.

"We have been proud to support DSV since the roll out commenced in 2007. The roll out was largely complete by late 2014, prior to the acquisition of UTi by DSV. Over nearly two decades, both organizations have grown significantly, and our partnership has evolved along with that growth. CargoWise has expanded significantly in its global capabilities over the last two decades, in part because of DSV, and CargoWise has played an important role in supporting DSV's world class operational efficiency and proven acquisition integration capability. DSV's skillful use of CargoWise has contributed to WiseTech's own progression as a leading global logistics technology provider.

CargoWise's deployment, within our large global freight forwarders, can take between 5 and 7 years to roll out and extract all available synergies. Factors like powerful core capabilities, substantial carrier, port and border agency integrations, complex large customers data integrations, substantial additional logistics modules that extend well beyond international forwarding, and the transition from manual to highly automated operations, require substantial planning, training and implementation.

CargoWise's efficiency and execution synergies are substantial, once deployed globally, across all trade lanes, making it very sticky and hard to replace, as demonstrated by our less than 1% customer attrition rate for the last 14 years. We expect any changes to be long-term and very gradual.

"We look forward to our continuing engagement with DSV's leadership. We see meaningful opportunities to further strengthen the relationship, particularly through the potential adoption of our AI Workflow Automation and the New Commercial Model, which have the ability to deliver further significant productivity improvements and operational efficiencies across DSV's global business."
