Summary

The discussion covers key outcomes from the December 2025 quarter, including operational progress at Qala Shallows as the project advances toward first gold. This included outlining the workforce growth, equipment mobilisation, and infrastructure commissioning.

Additionally, Mr Deysel provided further commentary on the Company's recent capital raise and strengthened funding position. The institutional placement, which was anchored by a $10 million investment from Tribeca Investment Partners, strengthened the Company's funding flexibility, reduced project risk, and improved their position with debt providers. The raise also enables the Company to progress growth projects such as Project 200 and the Bird Reef Central Uranium exploration program.

The Company reiterated that is has sufficient processing capacity and outlined several upcoming catalysts for 2026, including an update to the existing 5Moz Gold Mineral Resource Estimate, ongoing drillings, work on Project 200, and the major milestone of the first gold pour expected in March 2026.

Overall, the webinar provides a clear update on West Wits' transition to development and production, while outlining the growth initiatives across the broader Witwatersrand Basin Project.

The full webinar recording is also available via the Company's website under media.

Approved for release by the joint Company Secretary, Simon Whyte.
